

Canadian Wood Council/Wood WORKS! BC
Wood Design Awards 2011

Architect

The Award category recognizes the decision-making individuals who regularly specify, design or build commercial, industrial, and institutional projects with wood. These awards acknowledge those individuals who contribute to the selection of wood in a project, who overcome objections related to wood use in a project, and who lead the way for future projects in wood.

The Architect Award will be presented to an individual architect or architectural firm who demonstrate excellence and innovation in wood design. Exemplary candidates present a consistent history in their use of wood as a structural design choice, or show a particular project that stands out as a landmark in wood construction.
